MORNING EDITION.

MONTPELIER, Vt.
SATURDAY, JULY 18, 1863.

WASHINGTON, July 15.

By the President of the United States of America.
A PROCLAMATION.

It has pleased Almighty God to hearken to the supplications and prayers of an afflicted people, and to vouchsafe to the army and navy of the United States on the land and on the sea, victories so signal and so effective as to furnish reasonable ground for augmented confidence that the Union of these states will be maintained, their Constitution preserved, and their peace and prosperity permanently restored; but these victories have been accorded not without sacrifice of life, limb, health and liberty, incurred by brave, patriotic, and loyal citizens. Domestic affliction in every part of the country follows in the train of these fearful bereavements. It is meet and right to recognize and confess the presence of the Almighty Father, and the power of his hand equally in these triumphs and these sorrows.

Now, therefore, be it known, that I do set apart Thursday, the sixth day of August next, to be observed as a day for national thanksgiving, praise and prayer, and I invite the people of the United States to assemble on that occasion in the customary places of worship, and in the forms approved by their own conscience, render the homage due to the Divine Majesty for the wonderful things He has done in the nation's behalf, and invoke the influence of His holy spirit to subdue the anger which has produced and so long sustained a needless and cruel rebellion; to change the hearts of the insurgents; to guide the counsels of the government with wisdom adequate to so great a national emergency; and to visit with tender care and consolation, throughout the length and breadth of our land, all those who, through the vicissitudes of marches, voyages, battles, and sieges, have been brought to suffer in mind, body or estate, and finally to lead the whole nation through paths of repentance and submission to the Divine will, to the perfect enjoyment of union and fraternal peace.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.
Done at the city of Washington, this fifteenth day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and of the Independence of the United States of America the eighty-eighth.

PHILADELPHIA, July 17. The Inquirer says: From information from Washington it is generally believed that Charleston was captured on the 14th. Another account says Beauregard evacuated and burnt Charleston.

PORTLAND, July 17. A fisherman reports that while coming up from Harpswell this morning between 10 and 11 o'clock, and when about fifteen miles southeast from Portland, heard heavy firing, apparently two vessels firing broadsides. One vessel appeared to have heavier guns than the other.

NEW YORK, July 17—3 P. M. No disturbance to-day. The Fire Marshal estimates the total loss by fire from the mob $370,000.

NEW YORK, July 17—4 P. M. Gens. Wool and Brown have been relieved from command here, and Gen. Canby assumes command of the Department of the East. There are some 6000 troops now in the city, and regiments continue to arrive. No disturbance has yet taken place to-day.

The Post states that Gen. Canby supersedes Gen. Brown, by order of Gen. Wool. Some 30 rioters were killed by the 7th regiment last night. Not a casualty has been sustained in the 7th regiment.

Forty-four fires occurred between Monday morning and Thursday night.

The 54th regiment volunteers, and the 13th regiment, artillery, are on their way here from Rochester.

NEW YORK, July 17. Gen. Dix will arrive here in the morning. Gen. Kilpatrick had a conference with Gen. Sanford to-day. It is understood to be in reference to the arrival of cavalry from Washington to patrol the city.

Efforts to effect the withdrawal of troops from the 18th ward failed, though recommended by the Governor. The prisoners captured in the city are 30 in number.

It is intimated that when drafting is resumed the Government will have no less than 35,000 troops in New York. All is perfectly quiet to-night.

NEW YORK, July 17. Late arrivals from Richmond report great gloom there over the recent Union victories.

CINCINNATI, July 17. Col. Bourke, with 1500 men, encountered Morgan's forces at Berlin this afternoon. The enemy lost four killed. We lost none. Morgan moved in an easterly direction.

Gen. Hobson's advance reached Piketon to-day, twelve hours after Morgan left.

LOUISVILLE, July 17. It is thought Morgan's force will soon be captured. A dispatch from Gov. Tod expresses the belief that Morgan and his band will soon be captured or destroyed. He is surrounded, and all avenues for his escape are effectually closed against him.

MEMPHIS, July 15. Gen. Hurlburt's scouts report great excitement and consternation throughout central Mississippi, caused by Gen. Sherman's movement. Cattle, horses and negroes were run across the Tombigbee river at every ferry. Large numbers of the latter were trying to make their way into our lines.

Col. Hatches 2d Iowa cavalry is in pursuit of the rebel band north of the Charleston and Memphis railroad. He encountered Forest, Biffles and Newcomb, with 2000 mounted men. Our loss was 13 killed and wounded. The rebel loss was 52, and 100 prisoners and 125 good horses. Col. Hatch drove the enemy.

PHILADELPHIA, July 17. Nothing reliable has been received here regarding the capture of Charleston. It is understood on good authority that the Government has received a dispatch from Gen. Rosecrans, stating that the Chattanooga Rebel announces the capture of Charleston on the 14th.

The Washington Star of this date says: "We regret to be compelled to discredit this report."

A dispatch reached here from the west, stating that rebel prisoners taken, say Charleston has fallen.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 17. News received from Chattanooga to-day says that Charleston is in the possession of the Federals.

WASHINGTON, July 17. Col. Fry, Provost Marshal General has issued an order that Provost Marshals are informed that no orders have been issued countermanding the draft.

Adequate force has been ordered by Government to points where the proceedings have been interrupted.

The cannonading at the battle of Gettysburg was heard at Greensburg, a distance of one hundred and twenty-five miles in an air line.

Albert Gallatin Brown, the colleague of Jeff Davis in the U. S. Senate, has taken the oath of allegiance. He says he never believed in secession.

The greatest capture of men mentioned in modern history was made by Bonaparte at Austerlitz, where he took 20,000 men. Gen. Grant, it is now reported, took nearly 31,000 at Vicksburg. Napoleon's spoil at Austerlitz was 150 pieces of artillery; Gen. Grant's at Vicksburg is stated to be 238—embracing nine siege guns and 209 pieces of light artillery.
